EDUCATION:

Post Doctoral
September 2002

Industrial Statistics, (Concentration: Quality Improvement)
University of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.
Research: Modeling censored data for quality improvement from replicated design of experiments.

Ph.D.
September 1999

Industrial Engineering, (Area: Production Management and Applied Statistics.)
Northeastern University, Boston, USA.
Thesis: Analysis of censored life test data and robust design method for reliability improvement from highly fractionated experiments.

M.S.
June 1996

Operations Research, (Area: Decision Science and Operations Research)
Northeastern University, Boston, USA.

M.Sc.
December 1987

Statistics, First Class, 4th Position
Department of Statistics, Jahangirnagar University, Dhaka, Bangladesh.

B.Sc. (Hons.)
July 1986

Statistics, First Class, 6th Position, (Minor: Mathematics, Economics),
Department of Statistics, Jahangirnagar University, Dhaka, Bangladesh.

EMPLOYMENT:

April 2008- present

Professor, School of Business, North South University, Dhaka, Bangladesh. Teaching business statistics, operations management, Total quality management and quantitative methods classes in both the MBA and EMBA programs. Supervising under graduate and graduate intern students. Conducting researches on Product/process quality and reliability Improvement, Service Quality, Forecasting, Operations Management, Total Quality Management and Social Business.

January 2014
- present

Executive Director, External Relations, North South University, Bangladesh
(This administrative positions is ranked above Deans and directly report to the Vice Chancellor of the University). Responsibilities: Taking initiatives to outreach foreign universities, international bodies, responsible for international matters including MOUs, international students and visitors, initiatives to formulate and implement a strategic plan and develop an assessment plan for the external office, and outreach to the corporate world, public and private organizations to promote university's interests globally.

Organizing national career fair and fund raising for the fair.

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE:

May '05- March '08 Associate Professor, School of Business, North South University, Dhaka, Bangladesh. Taught business statistics, operations management, Total quality management and quantitative methods classes in both the MBA and EMBA programs. Taught introduction to statistics class in the BBA program. Supervised under graduate and graduate intern students.

September 2002
- April 2005 Assistant Professor, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, University of Windsor, Canada. Taught statistics for the sciences course to the undergraduate classes.

Odette School of Business, University of Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Taught business data analysis, statistical quality control, operations management, decision modeling, distance operations management courses to the undergraduate business students. Taught management science modeling, production management course to the regular MBA class.

Centre for Executive Education, University of Windsor, Ontario, Canada.
Taught quantitative analysis for management course to the Executive MBA for managers and professionals' class during winter 2003.

American Society for Quality, Quality Certification Program. St. Clair College, Windsor, Canada. Taught advanced statistical methods class in the QCP program during winter 2005.

September 2001
- September 2002

Post-Doctoral Research Fellow, The Pacific Institute for the Mathematical Sciences (PIMS), Department of Mathematics and Statistics, University of Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Conducted research on industrial experiments with censored response data under financial support of the PIMS, Nortel Networks, Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (NSERC), and the StatCAR lab of the University of Calgary.

September 1999
- September 2001

Lecturer of Quantitative Methods, Department of Management Sciences, College of Business Administration, Northeastern University, USA
Taught Business Statistics, Operations Management and Service Operations Management courses.

Summer 2000

Lecturer, (Part-time), Dept. of Mechanical, Industrial and Manufacturing Engineering (MIME), College of Engineering, Northeastern University, USA
Taught undergraduate Probability Analysis for Engineers course.

September 1993
- September, 1999

Teaching/Research Assistant, Dept. of MIME, Northeastern University, USA
Taught "Probabilistic Analysis for Engineers," Winter, '97, "Statistics," Fall, '97, "Engineering Statistics," Spring, '98, "Probability & Statistics," Summer, '98, "Statistics," Winter, '99 courses. Assisted graduate level courses (Design of Experiments, Statistical Quality Control, Applied Statistics, Basic Probability, Engineering Economics, Reliability Analysis and Testing). Demonstrated Turbo SPC/SQC and other statistical software to the graduate/undergraduate students.

April 1994
- October 1994

Software Editor, Addison-Wesley Publishing Co., Boston, MA, USA.
Edited three Mathematics books written by Keedy/Bittigner (Intermediate Algebra, Basic Mathematics and Introductory Algebra) to develop the solution of the problem using FUTURA Authoring Tool Software.

Summer 1993

Data Analyst, Chadwick Martin Bailey, Inc., Boston, MA, USA.
Worked on "Massport Air Passenger Study," project. Responsibilities: Data Collection, Data Coding, Editing and Evaluation of Questionnaire.

November 1992

Assistant Professor, Department of Management, Islamic University.
(Promoted as an Assistant Professor, while on study leave.)

October 1988
- November 1992

Lecturer of Statistics, Department of Management, Islamic University, Bangladesh. Taught undergraduate Introductory Statistics, Business Statistics, Probability, Mathematical Statistics, Economics (minor) and Graduate Managerial Mathematics courses.

September 1989
- February 1990

Lecturer, (part-time), Department of Economics, Islamic University, Bangladesh
Taught undergraduate Mathematical and Economic Statistics courses.

November 1990
- May 1992

Lecturer, (part-time), Department of Statistics, Tejgaon College, Dhaka.
Taught business statistics courses while working as fulltime at the Islamic University.

- October 1988
- September 1989 Lecturer, (part-time), Department of Statistics, Dhaka City College, Dhaka.
Taught undergraduate business and inferential statistics courses while working as fulltime at the Islamic University.
- July 1988
- October 1988 Lecturer, Department of Statistics, Dhaka City College, Dhaka.
Taught undergraduate business and inferential statistics courses.
- March '88– July '88 Research Assistant, Development Researchers and Associates (DRA), Dhaka, Bangladesh. Worked on the project titled “Increasing contraceptive prevalence rate in Lakshmpur project.” Responsibilities: Data analysis, questionnaire coding, project evaluation, and report writing.
- Jan '88-March '88 Research Assistant/ Editor, Society for Project Implementation Research Evaluation & Training (SOPIRET), Dhaka, Bangladesh. Worked on the project titled “Intervention and its impact on health and family planning - A base-line survey.” Responsibilities: Data collection, and analysis, coding, and report writing.
