Notice

Classes in the Spring Semester 2022 will be conducted in hybrid mode as per published schedule, but it can change to fully offline/online mode depending on prevailing COVID-19 pandemic situation and relevant government directives.

Students who have received at least the first dose of vaccine will be allowed to attend in-person classes from the classrooms on-campus. Students without any vaccine will attend the same classes virtually in real-time.

While on campus, students will be required to cooperate with NSU personnel and follow health and safety protocols such as wearing masks at all times, frequently sanitizing hands, covering mouth and nose while sneezing and coughing, and maintaining social distance. Those who are not vaccinated yet are requested to get vaccinated as soon as they get the opportunity.
